*Someone else
was faster than me...*

*I wasn't sure
if it was relevant...*

*I didn't dare
to speak up...*

*I'm just too
polite to jump
into wild discussions...*

I didn't want to take up too much time...

I would rather say this anonymously...

I wanted to stick to the main topic...

There are many reasons why interesting points never make it from participants' heads into a discussion. You could ask for them in an anonymous online forum after class. That might surface interesting thoughts, as well as give students confidence that their input is valued, which makes it easier to speak up in class in the future.
